FALL COLLECTIONS 2017

GOODMAN

HERE & NOW

A THING OF BEAUTY

VICTORIA BECKHAM and ESTÉE LAUDER are teaming up once again for a limited-edition line of beauty favorites inspired by Mrs. Beckham's most beloved cities around the world. See the newly expanded line and pick up an exclusive lighted beauty box, featuring a selection of must-haves from the collection, available exclusively on the Beauty Level at BG.

NO CHILL!

Montreal-based NICOLE BENISTI knows a thing or two about braving the cold. Benisti's fabulous fur-lined jackets, available this season on the Fifth Floor, strike a luxurious balance between fashion and function, providing a flattering new way to beat the elements.

A NOBLE SCENT

This season on our Beauty Level, CREED introduces White Amber, the latest intoxicating fragrance in its Les Royales Exclusives collection. This fruity and floral new scent, featuring notes of jasmine, sandalwood and rich amber, was crafted by sixth-generation (!) master perfumer Olivier Creed and is presented in a handcrafted bottle from heritage Parisian glassmaker Pochet.

TASTEMAKER

A longtime friend of BG, JOHN SALIBELLO has provided his discerning touch to our windows and interiors for years, so we're now thrilled to add his curated selection of vintage furniture, lighting and decorative elements to our Seventh Floor offerings.

Salibello favors taste over trend when selecting his pieces, ensuring they exhibit his unique perspective and an enduring style.

CULT CLASSIC

A newcomer to our Fifth Floor, RACHEL COMEY specializes in effortless yet sophisticated looks that exemplify the ethos and aesthetic of the Downtown New York creative scene. The line, which has quietly gained a cult following since its debut in the early aughts, is refreshingly unpretentious—but still chic enough for artsy A-listers.
