AT THIS FAIRFIELD COUNTY HOME, RON MARSHALL'S ROLE WAS AS MUCH CURATOR AS INTERIOR DESIGNER

Seating Arrangements (THIS PAGE, CLOCKWISE FROM ABOVE) The living room sofa is upholstered in a playful fabric from Beacon Hill; The World artwork is by Romero Britto; string lampshades from the Accessories Store adorn Murano lamps through John Salibello; rug is through Palace Rugs of Wilton. A walnut bench is from DDC/Minotti. Artwork by Patrick Caulfield delivers a pop of color above a chair with a matching ottoman. See Resources.

Stylish Selections (THIS PAGE)

Lucite barstools from John Salibello almost disappear at the spacious kitchen island by True North Cabinets. A pair of chandeliers from Design Within Reach cast a glamorous glow. See Resources.
