Insiders' Favorite Stores for Smalls

◀ John Salibello

"Right now, I'm taken by these contemporary Murano-glass boxes," said San Francisco interior designer Allison Caccoma. "I'd cluster a trio—in different shapes—on a coffee table for instant grandeur." Murano-Glass Box, $5,800, John Salibello, 212-838-5767

▲ Flair

"One of my favorite New York destinations for smalls is Flair in Soho," said New York decorator Matthew Patrick Smyth, who also recommends Mecox Gardens. "My advice is to not overthink them. Go with your instinct and buy what you like if the price is right. You will find a place for it—or it will make a nice Christmas gift for someone else." Walking Chimpanzee Sculpture, $1,800, flairhomecollection.com

▲ Lost Found Art

Interior designer Alexis Givens loves this Stamford, Conn., shop, which assembles (and sells) collections of quotidian objects such as vintage spinning tops and hand mirrors. "Collections are great for filling up larger surfaces," she said. Antique Brass Candlesticks, $675 for a mixed set of six, Lost Found Art, 203-595-0585
